“Tuesdays with Marti” Watercolor Exhibit at the Santa Maria Public Library

Beginning July 10th and continuing through the month, patrons of the Santa Maria Public Library may view artwork by Community Education watercolor students from Allan Hancock College. Taught by instructor Marti Fast, the exhibit “Tuesday’s with Marti” features her students’ range of artistic experiences and skills, from beginner to advanced, and artwork in all manner of media.

“Being in a creative community like an art class elevates everyone in the group,” Fast said. “It changes our brains and enhances our ability to think like an artist.”

This year’s projects included themes like “Walk a Mile in My Shoes,” “Stormy Skies,” and “Under My Hat.” The students painted landscapes, patterns, and used design principles. Fast said, “Everyone has something valuable to share, and I learn as much from my students as they learn from me.”

Come experience the colorful art of “Tuesdays with Marti” during the month of July in the Shepard Hall Gallery of the Santa Maria Public Library.
